Deepening campus ESG practices through experiential learning

The signing ceremony heralds the launch of a series of ESG-themed educational programs. Over the coming year, the three parties will jointly roll out “My Dream Home” ESG school visits across 33 primary and secondary schools under TWGHs across Hong Kong. Combining immersive real-world experiences with practical financial knowledge, the activities will allow students to gain first-hand insights into green operations and sustainable finance innovations within the banking sector, fostering a holistic understanding of the synergy between environmental protection, social responsibility, and sound corporate governance.

To build upon the insights gained from the visits, the three parties will host a flagship “ESG Fun Day” in 2027. The event will feature a sharing panel where corporate representatives and industry experts will share insights on corporate social responsibility, emerging sustainable development, and career orientation with the students. Designed to inspire through engaging and experiential learning, the initiative encourages students to align their personal interests with future sustainability trends, elevating environmental awareness while nurturing future-ready green talent for Hong Kong.
